Item 7.01 Regulation FD Disclosure.

On February 16, 2010, Portland General Electric Company (PGE or the Company) filed with the Public Utility Commission of Oregon (OPUC) a general rate case and proposed tariffs. The filing, which is based on a 2011 test year, includes a request for approximately $125 million in additional annual revenues, representing an approximate 7.4% overall increase in customer prices. The increase includes the combined effect of increases related to cost recovery of Phase 3 of the Biglow Canyon wind generating project and other investments required to provide reliable service to customers, as well as higher operations and maintenance costs. These increases were partially offset by a 2% decrease related to projected power costs. The filing also includes a 10.50% rate of return on equity, a capital structure of 50% debt and 50% equity, and an 8.289% cost of capital. The proposed average rate base is approximately $3.2 billion.

In addition, the filing includes the following proposals:

- Modification of the Company's Power Cost Adjustment Mechanism for closer alignment with similar mechanisms of comparable electric utilities, with a symmetrical deadband of $10 million above or below the established net variable power cost baseline;
- Continuation of decoupling and certain other adjustment mechanisms;
- Plan to recover costs of future major storm damage;
- Recovery of carrying costs/benefits related to power supply collateral requirements; and
- Recovery of costs associated with the Company's defined benefit pension plan.

PGE's current Integrated Resource Plan, filed with the OPUC in November 2009, recommends the continued operation of the Company's Boardman coal plant through 2040 with the addition of certain emissions controls required by the Oregon Environmental Quality Commission. An alternative operating plan is currently being considered, however, under which Boardman would either discontinue the use of pulverized coal as a fuel source or cease operation in 2020. Based upon uncertainties related to the expected life and alternative operating plans for Boardman, the Company has included a separate tariff to implement necessary rate changes resulting from decisions regarding the future operation of the plant.

Regulatory review of the general rate case will continue throughout 2010, with a final order expected to be issued by the OPUC by mid-December 2010. New rates are expected to become effective January 1, 2011.

Additional information regarding the general rate case filing, including copies of direct testimony and exhibits, is available on the Company's Internet website at: http://portlandgeneral.com/our\_company/corporate\_info/regulatory\_documents/filings/docketed\_filings/default.aspx.
